MOSAIC COLORANT

Sometimes, to create the perfect mosaic you are going to need a special colored cement or grout. Mosaic Colorant is your answer. Add small amounts into your DiamondCrete, grout, or Mosaic Stone Mix until you get the color intensity that you want. This is a concentrated powder, so a 3 oz bottle will go a long way.

MOSAIC GLASS TILES

These Italian glass tiles are fired in high temperature kilns using the finest of raw materials. The glass is semi-opaque, primarily light reflective, but allowing some light to shine through. This gives the tile a special luminous quality. Color depth and consistency is much better than more common, low-fire temperature, sheet mounted glass tile that is mostly intended for bathrooms and swimming pools.

Designed for easy cutting, nipping and application, these tiles may be used in infinite combinations on nearly any reasonably smooth surface. These tiles are shiny smooth on the front side and textured on the back for better adhesive grip. The edges are miter beveled for clean right angle corners. The tiles are waterproof, useable indoors or outdoors and are easily cut with nippers or broken with a hammer.

It takes approximately 225 tiles to cover one square foot. This number can vary slightly due to the spacing of your tiles.
